

I am very much opposed to banking groups seeking exception to no-call list. If they get through, others will follow. I do not need any banking institution calling me.